

Bensheim, September 22 2011

Training Workshop on Outcome and Impact Orientation KKID - Coimbatore, March 7th to 9th 2012

We are pleased to inform you about the above mentioned workshop which we offer at the Karl Kübel Institute for Development Education, Coimbatore (www.kkid.org).

Target group

Development practitioners from organisations dealing with development cooperation and/or participants involved with activities of project cycle management, monitoring and evaluation, coordination of projects / programmes in all fields.

Topic

Practitioners face a lack of user-friendly and reliable tools and suitable guidelines and on the other hand, projects are asked to prove their success and demonstrate their changes. This workshop is one step to close this gap. The workshop is meant for people who have come in contact with outcome and impact monitoring and are willing to give it a try and see if it works for them.

Objective

- Participants understand the meaning and process of outcome and impact monitoring for their work.
- Participants acquire basic skills to conduct outcome and impact monitoring independently.
- Participants are in a position to increase the changes of their projects by practicing the monitoring methods
- Participants will gain knowledge on the resources required to integrate outcome and impact monitoring systems during project design

The schedule and the proposed outline are enclosed for your kind information. As workshop language will be English it is necessary that participants are fluent in the same.

Contents

The workshop introduce outcome and impact orientation in general terms and shares the procedure to start monitoring changes from the very beginning (its concept and guidelines). The project cycle and impact chains will be reviewed to have a common understanding by all participants for practical exercises during the workshop.

The workshop will also share already field tested outcome and impact indicators and tools from self help groups and watershed development projects which could be useful for practitioners (experiences from the field). All sub group works will be carried out with concrete examples (case studies) and the practical exercises are in line with the general concept of outcome and impact orientation.

Trainer profile

Anke Schuermann holds a Diploma in Nutritional Science and a Post-graduation in Rural Development. She brings on board 13 years of project management experience, 10 years out of which were spent in India. While she coordinated various complex poverty alleviation programmes across India, monitoring and evaluation of achievements and impacts was a core task together with Indian NGO partners. She specialises in the area of participatory impact monitoring (PIM), on which she has a publication, has trained many Indian and international teams and carried out impact assessments.

Organisational details:

The number of participants is limited to 20. The cost per person for the three-days workshop are 17.000 Rs. / 280 Euro incl. food / accommodation, transport from station /airport Coimbatore to KKID and training materials. The costs have to be settled directly with KKID, Coimbatore. Taxes as applicable will be extra and shall be borne by the participant.

Please register yourself, your colleagues and/or staff until February 7, 2012 latest with:
Mrs. Sabine Beier, Karl Kübel Stiftung, Germany; e-mail: s.beier@kkstiftung.de

Due to spam problems we can only accept Online- or Fax-Registration. For online or fax registration please go to the link above or to the English homepage of Karl Kübel Stiftung (<http://www.kkstiftung.de/13-1-Home.html>).

With best wishes and kind regards,
Ralf Tepel, Executive Director Karl Kübel Stiftung, Bensheim / Germany